Charlie, did someone from the IRS contact you about Modest Needs?

May 9, 2023 at 11:02 AM

I got a subpoena. Was not allowed to talk about it.

When did you get it?

Month ago

That's what I figured.

They scared the shit out of me. Two Feds banged on my door at 8am like the were going to break in

Yeah, that's how they work evidently. Did the same thing to me yesterday. They're trying to make the case that Modest Needs isn't real and that I just use it as a way to scam ppl out of money

Basically same as last time, but now they're turning it into a criminal matter to make it even scarier.

What I've finally figured out is that this is never ever going to end

What I've finally figured out is that this is never, ever going to end barring a miracle. They hate me personally because last time they tried this, I beat them, so now they're not gonna stop.

It is scary. They scared the shot out of me

Well, you really don't have much to worry about.

That would be nice. See you at the play

Ok

Hey Charlie - the play last night was very wow. Like really wow.

I have so many questions . . .

But are you going to be around at any point today or tomorrow?

The weekend. Friday sat Sunday

Ok. I have a document for you to sign.

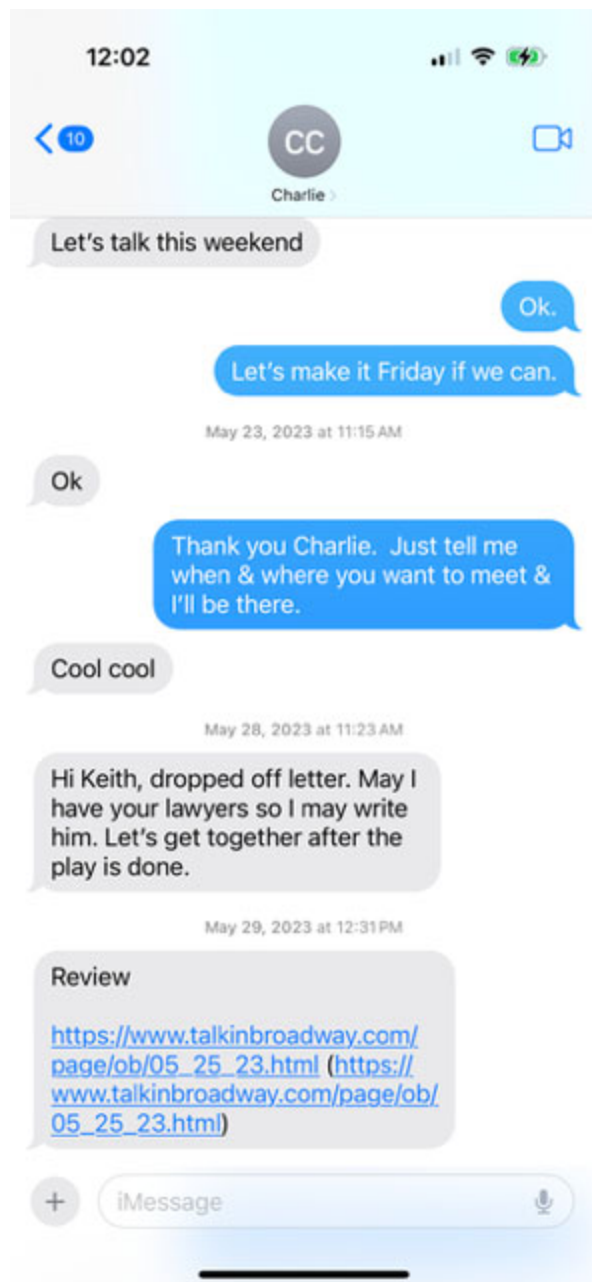

It's basically a waiver that gives Modest Needs permission to be represented by the attorney representing me.

Let's talk this weekend

Thank you for help again and again

Hi T, don't forget to send lawyers info about ending my time on Modest Needs board.

Jun 5, 2023 at 11:33 AM

Hey Charlie - sorry this took a minute. Modest Needs' attorneys are Brian Ketcham (bk@ketchampllc.com) and Steven Goldburd (steven@goldburdlaw.com). Iugh - I typed this yesterday and never hit send. My brain . . .)

It's the last night of the show. Maybe you want to see it again.

I'd love to, but I have plans tonight unfortunately. I wish I'd realized earlier.
